The well lighted and spacious Grey room at the Archives in Ottawa, displays to advantage the priceless treasures of Canadian history, including the Knight manifest.

A thirteen-year-old lad named Frank Sakina was the victim of a gun accident here on Sunday afternoon, when, while hunting quoppers, a 22-calibre sawed-off gun went off in his pocket, inflicting a severe wound. The bullet entered the boy's right leg high up on the inside of the thigh, coming out just above the knee. He was carried by a younger companion to the Niefcore home, where Dr. Stewart was summoned and had him removed to the hospital. Fortunately no bones were broken.

The Lethbridge Herald on Monday carried a picture of the oldest landmark in Blairmore, at the corner of Fifth Avenue and Victoria Street, erected by Capt. W. A. Beebe and just recently demolished to give place to a modern garage. In the picture are noted "Cap." Jack Boyce, Dave Ross and Johnny Wilson. Captain Beebe is still a resident of Blairmore and is hale and hearty at the ripe age of eighty-seven and two-thirds years; Boyce is in Missoula, Montana; Ross is at Clareholm, and Wilson deceased, present address not known.

In a recent issue of the paper editors enthusiastically proclaimed that tea "cannot be beaten as a human drink." But when these laddies reach the uppermost degree of worldly wisdom they will realize that the generous juice of Bonnie Scotland has a joyful infusion possessed by no other liquid refreshment. At picnics, social gatherings and cricket matches tea no doubt makes life bearable, but give a man who is feeling sad a hefty Doh and Doris and in five minutes he won't care whether the world goes all by itself or on the axle of a 1910 Ford. We know it, men!—The Scotch Philosopher.

At a special meeting of the Blairmore Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., on June the 2nd, a resolution was passed, in effect similar to action taken by the Bellevue Legion and the Hillcrest Miners' Club that: "They instruct their responsible officers to have all goods purchased outside the district by them to be brought in by the Railroad Company, and that friends and business people in town be invited to fall in line with the scheme." It is stated that a full one hundred per cent of the people of Blairmore are dependent upon the coal industry, and that the C.P.R., being the largest purchaser and consumer, is fully deserving of this consideration.

BLAIRMORE COUNCIL SUSPENDS POLICE CHIEF

During the week some surprises have been sprung in Blairmore which again gives this town prominence on the front pages of the daily press.

Following a charge being laid against the chief of police, Joseph Fitzpatrick, under the criminal code, his suspension was effected by the town council.

Fitzpatrick faces two charges, that of theft and extortion, being laid by the Crown. He was released on bail of $2,000 to appear on Friday, June 21st, for preliminary hearing before the magistrate.

Fred Goddard, who with Mr. Link has been acting as garbage man, has been appointed police constable.

Fitzpatrick is about fifty years of age, a war veteran and a widower. He was appointed to the position of police chief by the Workers' Party council in 1933, when William Knight became mayor.

A charge of extortion has also been laid against Leona or Lena Cumore, alias Leona McDarke, of Blairmore, who will also appear for preliminary hearing tomorrow at 10.30 a.m.

AMATEUR BASEBALL CARDS NOW PROCURABLE

In accordance with the instructions of the annual general meeting held on the 2nd instant, the executive committee have concluded arrangements whereby, effective at once, the Alberta Amateur Baseball Association will sell current amateur cards to all players registered with the association this year at the following prices: Juniors five cents, intermediates 20 cents, seniors 25 cents. In order to purchase amateur cards, applications for same must be made to the office of E. D. Batroun, hon. secretary-treasurer, 216-17 P. Burns Bldg., Calgary. Age limit for Juniors is under 20 years on 1st May, 1935; for juveniles under 18 at same date, and for midgets under 17. In the case of junior, juvenile and midget players, registration of playing certificates will not be completed unless the special form of declaration of age, properly completed, is attached to the baseball playing certificate.

ROOT OF DISORDER

Speaking at a meeting of the Montreal and Ottawa Conference, Dr. G. C. Pidgeon declared that the chief source of the present social disorder was not the people who attacked the social system, but those who, under it, enriched themselves at public expense. There were men and women with immense wealth, he said, who were not giving the community adequate value for it. He cited Pope Leo's encyclical as proof that the Catholic church did not admit absolute ownership of material things. Neither did The United Church, he stated, which believed every one holds all that he has as a steward of God.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Phillips, accompanied by their daughter, Eva, of Pasadena, California, passed through Blairmore last week and incidentally stopped over here long enough to meet with some of their old friends. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips resided in Blairmore many years ago, while Mr. Phillips occupied a position with the office staff of the West Canadian Collieries.

If you have died, moved, eloped, been married, sold out, been shot, been born, caught cold, been robbed, been gyped, bought a car, been visiting, had company, been courting, stolen anything, burnt your house, been snake bitten, caught a fish, cut a new tooth, hobbled your hair, had an operation, been arrested, been in a fight, been to a party, going to a party, gone to church, been drunk, or anything at all, let us know—we want news.

SHOWER TO MISS LEILA JOHNSON

The West End ladies were the hostesses at a beautifully arranged miscellaneous shower, held last evening, June 19th, at the Anglican church hall, when about eighty friends of Miss Leila Johnson, bride-elect for July, gathered to do her honor. She is the daughter of Mrs. and the late Mr. Moses Johnson, mine inspector of Blairmore. The first part of the evening was spent at whist and bingo. Prizes for whist going to Mrs. Faxon, Mrs. Violet Fraser and Miss Kidd, after which a dainty luncheon was served.

The novelty of the evening was little Joan Johnson wheeling in a buggy, beautifully decorated, filled with gifts; also a basnetine with quintuplets doctor Duffee and the nurse were well represented. Miss Johnson in a few well chosen words thanked her many friends for their kind remembrances.

VETERAN MOUNTIES INVITED TO CELEBRATE JUBILEE AT CALGARY—JULY 8

(By J.N., Calgary)

It was sixty years ago this year that the first troop of the N.W.M. Police arrived at the banks of the Bow River where the Elbow River discharges into it. The records do not show just how many were in that body but it was under the command of Insp. Brisaio and Sub-Insp. Cecil Denny. They had started from Macleod with the intention of locating a fort at a suitable spot on the Bow River, but through an error they must have crossed that river and got to the Red Deer River before the mistake was discovered. They turned south again until the river was reached.

That Coleman isn't a red town is demonstrated by the fact that Coleman merchants support the Coleman Journal, the local newspaper—and The Journal isn't red!—Such can't be said of Blairmore, where The Enterprise is just as far from being red. "Hands off the On-to-Ottawa trek" reminds one of similar communist demands made in Blairmore since the rise to office of the present mayor. A good many months ago, the R.C.M. Police were asked to "Hands off the sporting houses!" "Hands off the Blind Pigs," and, in fact hands off everything unlawful or immoral that the local municipal government desired to see operate. Of course, all such matters have their reaction. In other words: "Murder will out."

It is for the purpose of celebrating these two events that the city of Calgary and Exhibition and Stampede Ltd., have invited all ex-members of this famous force to attend a reunion at Calgary.

The residence of W. L. Evans, at the corner of Tenth Avenue and Victoria Street, has recently been treated to exterior decoration, making it by far the handsomest residence in the Crow's Nest Pass.

H. T. Halliwell, editor of the Coleman Journal, was in town Monday evening, and attended the Liberal-Conservative meeting. He didn't look a bit like the reporter of the London Daily Mail or the New York Times. Why, he was, like ourselves, even minus a note book and long pencil. And we've been wondering since what our ears are for.

JEROS — BOUTRY

The wedding took place at Burmis Catholic church June 19th, at 10.30 a.m., when Reta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Boutry, of Burmis, was united in marriage to Mr. John Jeros, of Trail, B.C., Father O'Dea, of Cowley, performing the ceremony in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. Miss Helen Muska was bridesmaid and Mr. Edward Perchazeau was best man. Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride. The happy couple will reside in Burmis after their honeymoon, which will be spent in Winnipeg and points east.

SLOT MACHINES NOW ILLEGAL

Dominion Day in Alberta this year will definitely bring to an end the long and profitable career of the devices commonly known as "slot machines." From that day forward these machines will be distinctly taboo by law, and will be liable to confiscation wherever they are found illegally existing. The slot machines are ruled out by the new act passed at the recent session, and which will come into force on July 1st, announces Hon. J. F. Lymburn, attorney-general. The act prohibits the keeping of these machines, and enables any peace officer to seize, without warrant, any machine he finds on any public premises. It also enables such an officer to search any private premises on warrant where he believes such machines may be kept. The definition of "slot machine" in the act is wide enough to cover pin ball machines, baseball, golf and whistle machines, and in fact any machine the result of any number of operations of which is a matter of chance and is capable of being used for gambling purposes.

That Coleman isn't a red town is demonstrated by the fact that Coleman merchants support the Coleman Journal, the local newspaper—and The Journal isn't red!—Such can't be said of Blairmore, where The Enterprise is just as far from being red.

A Distinguished Unit

King's Jubilee Procession Was Headed By Life Guards

The Life Guards, by the way, originated in two troops of devoted cavaliers who followed King Charles II. into exile.

This distinguished unit, whose proud duty it is to guard the sovereign, has a glorious battle record dating from the time of Dettingen and Fontenoy to the Great War.

It is an interesting fact that for the first time since Queen Victoria's Jubilee the entire King's procession was led by a captain of Life Guards.—London Daily Mirror.

Here Is A Definition

Berserker, Meaning Frenzied Anger, Comes From The Icelandic

Here is a phrase connoting frenzied anger bordering on madness. When it comes to appropriating what it wants for its own purposes, the English language plays no favorites.

So, we have this expression from the Icelandic, berserker.

The allusion is to the mythological Scandinavian hero, Berserk, who fought naked and regardless of wounds, while under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

Hay Fever Season Near

New York Doctor Has Treatment For Numerous Allergies

With the hay fever "season" drawing near, Dr. William H. Dieffenbach, of New York, revealed what he believes is an effective treatment for that ailment, and also for common colds, abscessed teeth and certain types of tonsillitis.

The treatment, he said, is by ultra-short radio waves, and is administered by a small economical apparatus not unlike a short wave radio set.

Dr. Dieffenbach, speaking before the convention of the American Institute of Homeopathy, explained the machine was developed after a study of the reason why radio operators, working in close quarters on ships and subjected to short waves, did not have colds.

The patient is placed on a table, the physician explained, with his head between two electrodes which do not touch him. The cold treatments last from 10 to 15 minutes and are given daily for five or six days.

Soviet Divorce Laws

Feeling Held In Russia That There Should Be More Stringency

The communist party's organ Pravda called for a campaign against "Don Juan" ideas and abuse of the easy Soviet divorce laws.

In line with the new Bolshevik "morality program" which the press has been preaching in recent weeks, Pravda said a woman must not be treated merely as a subject for flirtation, to be abandoned after a short-term marriage.

Both marriage and divorce are merely by registering in the neighborhood civil registry office. Too many people, Pravda said, view marriage as they do taking a street car ride.

Our Beautiful Snow And Blue Geese

By JACK MINER
Canadian Naturalist

Readers please pardon a few words of my wild goose history. The ancient fables are that I was from 1904 to 1908 getting the first 11 Canada Geese to alight at Kingsville and in 1912 the flock had grown to be known all over the continent. That spring one blue goose came with honkers and to tell the whole truth I had not been far enough from home to know what it was, but we named her dolly white head. In 1915 we started banding the Canada Geese and soon got in touch with the Eskimos and Missionaries of the far north. We found that the Eskimos called these Blue and Lesser snow geese, Wavies. Well gradually more and more wavies came until I found myself waving and waving in the air and waving in the air. Wavies were seen at Point Pelee, Rondeau, St. Clair Flats, Cedar Creek, and Anderson Marsh. In fact old ones were seen for fifty miles around our sanctuary and I got the snow and blue goose fever so badly that I wrote Mr. Paul Reddington who was then Chief of the United States Biological Survey, at Washington, D.C., asking permission to go into the Louisiana Marshes to band the wavies. He replied at once stating he would allow me the privilege of providing I would put the United States Biological Survey bands on them. To this I made no reply, but in about two weeks I received another letter offering me the privilege to put my band on one leg and the United States Biological Survey band on the other. Readers please pardon my lack of grammatical education, but by Mr. Reddington's letter the last letter first I would have banded five thousand of those wavies in less than three years, and the results could have gone into all the schools in America. But by the time I received that last letter I had changed my plans and I planned an evergreen forest border two rods wide around a ten acre back field. I dug a small pond in the centre of the field and named this ten acre wavy field and I placed five wing-tipped wavies in this, ten and last spring, I caught and banded seven wavies, six blue and one snow, and according to a report I saw in the Toronto Globe there was a blue goose seen near London. This is fully one hundred miles from my home, where we are gradually drawing the wavies from the West, but the report stated this goose had orange color on its head. Now this orange is not a goose color at all; it is an orange stain gathered from feeding in the dead flocks and nest flocks where they come about the tender roots below. Well, about May 10th, these seven banded wavies circled high and took the northern air line special for parts as yet unknown to me, and nothing worthy of mention happened until between one and two A.M., October 29th, when I was awakened by an ear-ful of goose honks, and when the light came we found that fifty-three honkers had arrived, and one young snow goose. We named this goose Lucy Snow and Lucy Snow is going to be banded. Monday, October 29th, was a beautiful cold morning and the bright blue sky was dotted here and there with low dark scudding clouds. The sun shining through in different places gave the heavens a glorious yes, I feel like saying a glorious whispering effect. I was, of course, not chumming with the wavies when my north eye picked up as thrilling a sight as I will ever remember. Here were about fifty honkers honking and motors shut off, planning down out of the heavens. They were not moving a feather, but remained in their V formation apparently just sat down on the air with their wings bowed downward in a half circle, as perfect and as uniform as so many new moons with their faces down. Following them was not a flock, but a small swarm of wavies—yes, there were over five hundred of them. Some of the V-shaped lines would be most all snows, while the others would be blues. Some lines were mixed about fifty-fifty. The adult snow geese being pure white, all but about twelve light feathers at the tips of each wing, which are dark; the young being a smoky white. The adult blues have a pure white head and slate colored breast. The young blue vary from light to dark slate color, and heads from smoky white to dark slate—seldom two alike. These lesser snows and blues are one and the same birds in habits and size. They differ only in color and in captivity they will cross as readily as Wyandotte chickens, and I am sure they cross in the wild state, for I have a high-bred wild one here right now. So it is plain to be seen there would be at least six different colors in that beautiful flock of wavies. Yes, the Eskimos have it right. They are wavies and how they did wave and wave in the sun and shade, as they passed over this sanctuary, and will you believe it, this swarm of knowledge causes me to believe they were in Louisiana but had there been only fifteen or twenty in that first flock, my picked-up bird knowledge causes me to believe they would have landed here with the fifty honkers that they were following. In clearing I just wish to say that the thrills I am getting out of knowing that the Canada Geese are gradually influencing these beautiful wavies to come here, and that I have been able to catch and band seven thousand of them, and that I have more heart pleasure and thrills me with more wide-awake bubbling over anticipation of the possibilities of what can be done at home than I had gone into Louisiana and banded seven thousand. Therefore I can conscientiously say I am thankful I did not receive that last letter first.

No Leather Shortage

Situation Here Not Paralleled With United States

Canadian consumers and boot and shoe manufacturers have no need for concern if a shortage of heavy sole leather due to drought and increased slaughtering of heavy cattle in the United States develops in the republic, Dominion government officials said.

The feared United States situation is not paralleled in Canada and the slaughter of heavy cattle in the Dominion is almost negligible, as the tendency is to market our cattle earlier than formerly, officials said. Approximately 95 per cent. of boots and shoes worn by Canadians are manufactured in this country, it was estimated. Of those imported the great bulk was from the United Kingdom.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

CHRISTIAN MISSIONS

Golden text: Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to the whole creation. Mark 16:15.

Devotional reading: Psalm 67.

Explanations And Comments

Power for Witnessing, Acts 1:8. In their last interview with the risen Christ, the apostles asked him when he would restore the kingdom to Israel. Their question shows how well-nigh impossible it still was for them to rid themselves of the common Messianic expectation of the Jews that the Christ would rule over a Jewish nation independent of Rome and herself dominant, politically and religiously, over the other nations of the earth. "It needed the Pentecostal outpouring of the Holy Spirit to teach the apostles that Christ's Kingdom is not of this world."

In his answer, "It is not for you to know times or seasons which the Father has set within his own authority," Jesus does not stop to teach his disciples again what he had so often taught them, that they had a wrong view of his kingdom, that it was the kingdom of the disciples was a little, vanishing splendor, while the Kingdom of Christ was the whole universe and purport of God. The Acts records the story of how the apostles carried out this commission. The uttermost part of the earth is represented by Rome, the capital of the Empire, the place where, as Irenaeus said, "All men from every quarter of the world."

Whenever and wherever men and women are unitedly spiritual, prayerful, self-denying, carefully taught in Christian truth, and waiting upon the Spirit of God for his guidance in a matter of profound importance to his work, then and there the scene is laid for a mighty Christian enterprise to have its auspicious beginning or to advance its success.

The Usual Place

Possibly you, too, have wondered where King George puts his hat when he visits the city. When His Majesty attended the thanksgiving service in St. Paul's Cathedral in London, he was wearing the special plumed hat that is reserved for such occasions. During the service, the hat was simply put on the floor at the King's feet, just where every other man usually puts his hat when he goes to church.

To Meet In Vancouver

Recorded Television

New Scientific Wonder, "Gramovision," Demonstrated Before Press Representatives

A new scientific wonder, which promises to be one of the great home entertainments of the future, was demonstrated in public for the first time when the inventor, F. View, demonstrated "gramovision," or "recorded television," before press representatives in London.

He put a record on a gramophone turntable and pictures appeared on the screen of a television receiver. Suitable records can be made for the television sets that will receive the high-definition programs to be sent out by the B.B.C. in the near future.

Have been working for about 10 years on television and for two years on this idea," Mr. View said. "Shortly I shall demonstrate a record containing both vision and sound. The addition of sound is a fairly simple matter."

Light Ray Is Accurate

Determines Whether Pearl Is Real Or Cultured Gem

A tiny beam of light thrown into a pearl has definitely solved the problem of telling natural from cultured pearls, George C. Block, Los Angeles jeweller, revealed.

"The endoscope, one of the many scientific devices which have taken much of the uncertainty out of the buying of gems," Block said, "throws the beam of light into the pearl through a needle. If the pearl is true the light follows the concentric layers of its core and is reflected into the eye of the observer."

The pearl is one of the cultured variety the light beam reveals the mother-of-pearl head which is artificially planted in the oyster to promote the pearl."

Ontario Man Wins Large Sum From Sweepstake Ticket

A half share in an Irish Free State sweepstake ticket, given to him when he refused to buy it, has brought Gordon Fox, elderly Kingsville, Ont., resident, $24,500.

Mr. Fox was co-owner with William Flaten, commercial traveller, of Kingsville and Toronto, of a ticket on Field Trial, which finished third in the Derby at Epsom Downs. The ticket was worth $40,000.

While refused to consent on his unexpected good luck, it is understood Mr. Fox has never bought a sweepstake ticket in his life. His friend had vainly tried to induce him to purchase a share in the ticket and when unsuccessful had penned both names to it.

Law Is Amended

Rights Of Husbands Over Property In England Is Wiped Out

Long-standing principles of English law were set aside in a bill given second reading in the House of Lords. Entitled the Law Reform bill, it is designed to relieve husbands from anomalous legal burdens incurred upon marriage. It practically wipes out the rights of a husband over his wife's property of the same time removing his liabilities for civil wrongs or breaches of contract committed by her.

Under ancient English law, a man upon marriage took all his wife's property and assumed legal liability for her actions.

SISTER AND BROTHER DRESS
ALIKE AND LOVE IT—MUMMY
WILL WELCOME IDEA TOO

By Ellen Worth

Many a smart woman has decided to dress small brother and sister in togs of similar styling. As for example, the models patterned to-day, show just how smart and practical they can be.

Sister's dress is made of white dimity. Brother's shorts are baby blue cotton broadcloth, topped by white dimity blouse.

Another cunning scheme is both models carried out in yellow plique. You can have brother and sister pattern for price of one if you order both in same size, but if ordered in different sizes, the patterns are 25 cents each.

Pattern 667 is designed for sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Size 4 requires 1 1/2 yards of 35-inch material with 1/4 yard of 35-inch contrasting for dress; and 1 1/2 yards of 35-inch material with 1 yard of 35-inch contrasting for trousers, for suit.

Pattern 668 is designed for sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Size 4 requires 1 1/2 yards of 35-inch material with 1/4 yard of 35-inch contrasting for dress; and 1 1/2 yards of 35-inch material with 1 yard of 35-inch contrasting for trousers, for suit.

SYNOPSIS

Nancy Nelson is a sub-deb, a girl, irresponsible girl of nineteen, with no care beyond the choice of her costume for her coming-out party. Suddenly in the market crash, her indulgent father loses all he had, and his family is faced with the necessity of a simpler method of living. At this juncture a letter is received from an eccentric relative in Colorado, who offers to let her have a home on what seems to be impossible conditions.

After much consideration Cousin Columbine's offer is accepted, and Nancy and Jack arrive at Pine Ridge. Now Go On With The Story

"But she had on silk stockings, Jack, and high-heeled slippers! They looked so incongruous with all the rest of her. Well, that'll be something to write home about. I wonder if we ought to go inside. Do you know, I—I feel sort of nervous. I wish whoever's coming for us would come and get it over with."

"Let's stay right here, this air's so marvelous. Do you suppose they often get such days in winter? Watch out, sis! Jack lowered his voice. "Catch onto the old dame in the fireman's shirt."

Nancy smiled, eyes following her brother. "A white-haired woman had just emerged from the station. She wore a broad-brimmed black felt hat much like a man's, while her long black cape being unfurled, revealed a midday blot of flaming red. Her feet were clad in stout, black, laced boots, above which an inch or two of cotton stocking met a dark cloth skirt. An eccentric figure, taken as a whole. "And yet," Nancy whispered to the girl, "Jack hurriedly, 'she has an air about her. See what I mean, Jack?'"

"Yeah," he admitted, "but I bet she's a crank of some sort, just the same. You know, what they call a—character. You'd think—"

Jack paused. The eccentric lady had turned and was approaching rapidly. "I'm looking for two young people by the name of Nelson," she said crisply. "Have I found them?"

The question was as unique as the woman; but in that moment her somewhat mannish countenance was lighted by a content smile. Jack actually grinned, while Nancy responded quickly: "It looks as if you had! Did Cousin Columbine send you to meet us?"

A quick nod answered her.

"I dare say you're hungry as two bears, and so am I. Come in and eat. These Eastern trains always arrive at meal times."

Still talking, she led them toward the station restaurant and motioned to seats at the counter.

"No use in paying a dollar for a dinner when you can get a hot roast beef sandwich for fifty cents. Do you like roast beef? In my opinion there's nothing better. Do you want coffee? They say it's bad for people but I've drunk it every day for more than fifty years and am still able to get about." She smiled at the waitress, and not giving the young people a chance to answer, ordered: "Roast beef sandwiches, coffee, lemon meringue pie for three, please; and take your time."

Struck dumb by this breezy individual, Jack stilled a smile and gave his sister a disconcerting nod. Their escort had hung her eyes on the nearby hook, and was a noticeable figure in her broad felt hat and scarlet middy. People looked at her, mildly amused; but there was nobility in her weatherbeaten countenance, and her smile was winning.

Lunch was quickly served, and there being no privacy at the counter, was consumed in silence save for a few questions regarding their journey. As the train glided away from the station, both boy and girl turned to watch it, feeling a subtle regretful twinge, as if some good friend were deserting them; and as Nancy resumed her meal their companion asked: "Sorry to see the train depart without you?"

"I suppose I am," replied the girl, and added at this unexpected insight of her mood: "You see, it makes me feel as if the last bridge behind us was burning. Everything's so different from Massachusetts; and I'm not knowing Cousin Columbine at all! I'm still enough to be a little nervous."

The woman smiled one of her nice smiles.

"You needn't be. I don't think you'll find Columbine Nelson hard to live with."

"Have you known her long?" asked Jack, hoping to secure a bit of light on the character of their unseen relative.

"All my life. She was born at Pine Ridge seventy-odd years ago in a covered wagon."

"I know," said Nancy. "It's one of our family stories, that, and how she happened to be named."

"Is it indeed?" The woman tipped her head, as if she had no trouble in interpreting. It said as plainly as if he'd spoken: "Enter the forbidden boy friend! Take care, sis!"

"The lunch room was almost empty now, and as she slipped from the high stool Nancy saw a tall young fellow in a sombrero which he removed as he caught sight of their companion.

Jack stole an amused glance at Nancy—a glance she had no trouble in interpreting. It said as plainly as if he'd spoken: "Enter the forbidden boy friend! Take care, sis!"

"This is Mark Adam, who is to drive us up," explained the lady. "Mark, these young folks are Nancy and Jack Nelson. Where are your trunk checks, Jack? I presume you've both brought luggage. And where's Matthew, Mark?"

The young man smiled, showing strong, white teeth and a crinkle of humor around the eyes.

"Glad to know you," he stretched out a welcoming hand. "Matt's outside on the truck—too bashful to come in and meet the—er lady. That's it," (as Jack produced the checks). "You'll find the car parked back of the station. I'll be there as soon as I help Matt with the baggage."

"Mark's a good boy," observed their new acquaintance as the driver strode away. "He and his brother came down to the creamery to-day (they run a dairy ranch), so I roped them in to drive us and get your luggage. There isn't a better driver in Pine Ridge than Mark Adam. Nancy, so you've no call to feel nervous going up the pass. Here we are." They had left the station and were crossing a broad parking space. "You're to ride with Mark, Jack. You boys must get acquainted, and I want a chance to get acquainted with your sister."

Jack grinned as he helped them to their places. He longed to ask if their antiquated cousin had given these instructions in order to keep Nancy and "that good-looking" as far apart as possible. Knowing that something of this sort was in his mind, Nancy threw him a warning glance, and said, as she sat down beside the eccentric lady whom she was beginning to like immensely: "It's queer, but I feel acquainted with you already; and do you realize we don't even know your name?"

The lined face brightened humorously.

"The truth is, I never tell my name if I can avoid it. That's the only grudge I've got against my parents. I've always wondered if their brains weren't affected by the altitude when they inflicted such a misnomer on a helpless infant. My name, you nice young things, is Columbine Nelson!"

CHAPTER VI.

If their unconventional relative had set off a bomb and blown the old Ford touring car into a million bits, she wouldn't have created more surprise. Jack paused, one foot on the running board, and stared at her; while Nancy gasped: "But—but you can't be! Why Cousin Columbine's a feeble old lady over seventy!"

"Over seventy, I'll admit," alleged their companion, her eyes twinkling, "but not so feeble as she led you to believe. Stop staring at me, Jack. If it's the middy blouse you'll just have to get used to it. A middy's a life-saver in a place like Pine Ridge where there's no dressmaker. I welcomed them with joy when they came into fashion years ago; and I shall continue to wear them fashion or no fashion, as long as they can be caught by mail."

The red ones are worn for gala occasions like the present. Usually I wear blue. Here comes our driver. Will you kindly testify that my name is Nelson, Mark? These young folks seem to be unbelieving."

Mark Adam laughed as he swung into the driver's seat.

"It is unless she got married when I dropped her at the Court House two hours back," he stated. "I saw that cop give you an admiring glance, Miss Columbine."

"Admiring?" Columbine Nelson smiled contemptuously. "It's more likely he was thinking: 'There's that old freak come down from Pine Ridge again.' Stop at the Cash and Carry for a box of canned stuff, Mark; and then head for home or Matthew will get there first and not know where to put the luggage."

"Can't Aurora tell him?"

"She had turned into a street that faced the mountain, from which Nancy could hardly take her eyes."

"Not Aurora, Tabba," Cousin Columbine was saying. "She's so flustered at the idea of having company that like as not she'd have him put those trunks in the bathroom. We have a bathroom, Nancy, which no doubt you'll be relieved to hear. The only one other place in town, and that's a summer cottage belonging to a rich old man from Oklahoma. I went to the extravagance in 1914, just before the war started over in Europe. I remember the date because I was christening the tub when the news came, and Aurora (her sister married a German, Otto Weismuller up at Cripple Creek, and as good a fellow as ever lived), came rushing upstairs with the paper. She actually pounded on the door, and shouted: 'Miss Columbine! Miss Columbine! Don't bother to wash. The Germans have started fighting. Do you suppose our Otto will have to go?' Aurora's apt to get flustered in an emergency, but I never saw her so worked up."

This brought a laugh; and Mark said dryly: "I didn't know we'd ever had a christening in Pine Ridge, Miss Columbine. Too bad that party was interrupted by a war."

"It wasn't," retorted the old lady. "I called back: 'Keep still, Aurora. This is the first tub bath I've had since my mother washed me in a tin dish pan with only a covered wagon for privacy, and I wouldn't cut it short if the whole German army was in the lawn.' I found the wash was mad by the way she thumped downstairs, but she got over it before I put on my clothes. Here comes Matthew now. Slow down. I'm going to stop him."

She signalled wildly, and a truck drew up beside them, though it seemed to Nancy that both vehicle and the driver did so with reluctance. The latter started to remove his hat, found he had none on, and blushed furiously. The truck emitted a sort of groan.

"If you reach home first, Matthew, just sit and wait till we get there," ordered Miss Columbine. "You can tell Aurora I said to give you a slice of chocolate cake. And this is as good a time as any to make you acquainted with my cousins, Nancy and Jack Nelson. Don't drive recklessly up the pass and lose those trunks over the edge, will you? I dare say you're valuable, and I don't trust your driving as I do Mark's."

"Yes," responded Matthew nervously. "Pleased to meet you. I'll be careful, Miss Columbine."

He reached for his hat again, found it still missing, blushed redder, and started the truck with such a jolt that empty milk cans careened drunkenly in the rear. Such confusion amused his brother, and a quiet laugh escaped from Nancy. She said: "He's really bashful, isn't he?"

"Born that way," responded Cousin Columbine.

"And so good looking!" observed Nancy.

They had stopped at a traffic signal, and their driver turned his head a little to say over his shoulder: "The family beauty."

BABY'S OWN SOAP

Enjoyed by five generations of Canadians.

Nancy couldn't restrain a giggle, and Jack laughed outright; but Cousin Columbine remarked severely: "If you expect me, or anybody in Pine Ridge to contradict you, young man, you'll be disappointed. In my day it wasn't considered modest to fish for compliments. The green light's on, boy. Why don't you get along?"

"Too crushed to move," he told her, and proceeded to start the engine as quietly as its age allowed. "I'll park somewhere on a side street, Miss Columbine. There's no space in front of the Cash and Carry; but I'll walk over and get your box. It's only half a block."

Eager to stretch his legs, Jack offered assistance; and as the boys strode off the old lady remarked critically: "Jack's thin, isn't he? Grown too fast, most likely, and been cooped up in school. A year in the open will do wonders for him."

Nancy thought, with sudden consternation: "A year! Does she expect us to stay that long?" but managed to answer: "That's why Mother let him come. The doctor said he needed outdoor life more than a horse."

GREAT JOYS

Tree Provides Food

Produces Nuts Which Look Like Eggs When Cooked

A rare tree providing food is the property of George Grant, a resident of Somerset Parish, Bermuda. When he is short of eggs to accompany his morning bacon, he goes into his garden and plucks one from a tree. The tree bears a fruit, the size and color of a pomegranate. The fruit bursts open when ripe and "lays" a nut about the size of a hen's egg yolk. Mr. Grant cooks this for five minutes when it turns a beautiful golden yellow. Garnished with white sauce it looks exactly like a hard-boiled egg. Mr. Grant is the only man in the colony with such a tree. It was brought there years ago by his father. It is a native of Africa, where it is called the Akee.

Keep Record Of Graduates

Careers Of Alberta's Commercial Students Followed Up

Business men of Alberta, who seek university graduates for their office or sales staffs, will be aided by the University of Alberta. Under the direction of Dr. W. C. Wallace, president, leading firms will be given information about the qualifications of graduates seeking a commercial course in life.

Investigation into careers of the university's school of commerce graduates resulted in reports on 97 of the 127 men and women graduated from the institution since it started in 1923. They are employed in Alberta, Toronto, Vancouver, the United States and one in Honolulu.

Some have taken up teaching; others are engaged in secretarial work; in the Canadian trade commission offices and in general commercial fields. One graduate took up farming.

The survey showed that only seven of the 127 graduates had married since leaving the commercial school.

Vimy Pilgrimage

Lady Haig To Attend The Vimy Memorial Unveiling

That Lady Haig will be present at Canada's unveiling of the War Memorial at Vimy next July was announced to-day by Brigadier General Alex Ross, Dominion president of the Canadian Legion.

"I am so grateful to you for your kind letter which has reached me regarding the Canadian Pilgrimage in 1936," wrote Lady Haig. "It will be a wonderful gathering to unveil that beautiful memorial, and I shall feel much honored that the members of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League have allowed me to accompany them."

Canada's Peace Army, registration to date is now over a thousand and expected to reach twenty times that figure, will attend the unveiling of Canada's War Memorial at Vimy Ridge in July of next year in the presence of representatives of the British and European as well as Canadian and United States governments.

Rewarded With Fortune

Lonely Bachelor Leaves Little Nurse Home And Money

Because she looked after an old bachelor when he was dying, the 15-year-old daughter of a family at Qualicum Beach, B.C., has won a fortune of over $20,000.

For five months Benjamin Muhler had been sick. Every day the girl would go from her home, close by, to the small house of the bachelor and look after his needs.

A short time before his death the bachelor told his little nurse that he would leave her his house and two acres of land on which it stood. He never told her of the fortune that was in store. In fact, no one in the district thought that he had any money.

When the old man died and was buried, the will was read. His whole estate, which included the house and grounds and $20,000, was left to his little nurse, who is the oldest of five children.

British Film Stars

Leave Hollywood In Compliance With Immigration Regulations

Foreign born film players have to watch the United States immigration requirements closely. Two of them, Thomas Clark and Gerry Marco, English, have left Hollywood.

Clark, who appeared in "The Barrets of Wimpole Street," and Marco, who played in "Clive of India," declared before they left they were going voluntarily. They had been accused of overstaying their visitors' permits.

A BARBER WHO HAD RHEUMATISM

Tells How He Carried On

A barber who had been "a martyr to rheumatism" writes:—

"I have been a martyr to rheumatism for some ten years. For five years I was so affected that it was with the greatest difficulty I was able to carry on my business. I may say I am a barber by trade. After having tried numerous remedies, I was finally advised to try Kruschen. I am pleased to say that after having used Kruschen for some twelve months, I am now free from aches and pains than I have been for some ten years. In fact I consider I am rid of rheumatism, thanks to Kruschen Salts."—W. M.

Some of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are the most effective solvents of uric acid known to medical science. They swiftly dull the sharp edges of the painful crystals, then convert them into a harmless solution. Other ingredients of these Salts have a stimulating effect upon the kidneys, and assist them to expel the dissolved uric needles through the natural channel.

Success In Business

Depends Very Largely On How Hard One Works

There is altogether too much nonsense talked about business. The world is full of theorists, men who can tell others how a business should be operated but who have never been able to make a success of one themselves. To conduct a business successfully three things are essential; money, ability, and a tremendous capacity for hard and strenuous work. It is the last of the three which contributes the greatest part to the success of a business, but it is a wise combination of the three which provides work for hundreds of thousands of men and women all over Canada.

WE HOPE THEY GET THERE

Huddled in their hundreds—nine hundred in all—aboard last Monday night's fast freight, the Depression Army passed through Bassano. An eye-witness likens them to a swarm of ants, crouching in the cold and the pouring rain. They were the relief camp strikers on their orderly—so far—way from Vancouver to Ottawa to lay their grievances before the mighty in the capitol city.

And we devoutly hope they get there.

We hope that every last one of them is set down safe and sound on the steps of the capitol with all the vigor of protest they possessed while they were sojourning in Vancouver.

This hope is not inspired by any base desire to embarrass the good folk in Ottawa.

We would not willingly break into the solemn and pontifical calm of parliamentary deliberations nor disturb a moribund and harried government that is pondering, at present, the ancient problem of how to make bricks without straw.

Nor is there any taint of malice in our wish to inflame Vancouver's experience upon those wise statesmen who recently told Vancouver, in effect, to go stew in her own juice.

Rather, from a detached and philosophical standpoint, do we contend that this invasion of Ottawa will be wholesome and salutary for both Ottawa and the strikers themselves.

It will be of benefit to Ottawa because we doubt if a good many of the big boys down there have ever seen anybody in the flesh who was actually hungry and in distress.

In those good old Mother Goose days in Canada when the chief national problem was taking a further tack in the farmer's little riddle the Ottawa contingent used to rub through the prairies in the fall even from the luxury of cushioned drawing rooms, gaze out and gaze out, the fat and billowing wheatfields.

They never came out here in the dusty summer or the slushy spring or in the years of desolation.

It was the prime axiom of the big fellows to look only on life when it was good.

And we feel somehow that they carried the same principle out with regard to the unemployed. In short, they have no more firsthand knowledge of subsistence camp workers than they have of the sere and yellow tragedy of a crop failure.

It will be a healthy thing, therefore, for Ottawa to have a good look at these men. And, please don't laugh, it will probably be good for Ottawa's soul.

We incline also to the belief—or is it just a hope?—that the trip will benefit the camp strikers.

It is hardly likely that they will gain any material concessions from Mr. Bennett, for Mr. Bennett, as you will recollect, is not the man who invented either the Christmas tree or the full dinner pail.

But what the strikers will gain is this:

The further they get away from the flashpots of Vancouver, the more they will be purged of their Communist parasites.

For it is a foregone conclusion that no Communist agent is going to ride a box car or disperse red eloquence with cinders in his eyes.

Moreover, Communist activity is not likely to flourish so openly in a capital whose reigning leaders are only looking for an excuse to exercise Fascist authority.

The chances are that the men who get to Ottawa will have gained a national perspective on their plight that will enable them to negotiate with an objectivity they have not possessed heretofore—Bassano Mail.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Knapman received word last week from Knoxville, Tennessee, of the marriage of their only son, Frederick William, to Miss Frances D. Carver, daughter of Mrs. G. R. Snyder, of Shelby, North Carolina. Mr. and Mrs. Knapman will spend the summer in North Carolina, returning in the fall to make their home at Chehalis, Washington.

The city of Nelson recently passed a $150,000 by-law for the immediate construction of a community centre for sports and recreation on a scale that will make most smaller cities in Canada gasp with amazement. The new Nelson centre will have facilities for large community gatherings, and includes artificial freezing equipment for skating, hockey games, and curling, in addition to other indoor sports.

At a joint meeting of Liberals and Conservatives held here on Monday night, it was decided that, should no other candidate than Social Credit and Communist enter the fight in this riding that they would back the Liberal candidate, Dr. D. J. McNeil. Since Monday, however, it is understood that Mr. Cruickshank's hat will be in the ring, so what action will be taken is as yet undecided.

Here and There

Two or three times as much rainfall this year between April 1 and May 8 on the Prairies as compared with the same period last year makes the outlook for the 1935 harvest similar to that at the same time in 1922 when the largest crop since 1928 was recorded, states T. S. Acheson, general agricultural agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the West.

Leonard J. Pohlmann, travelling passenger agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, with headquarters at New York, was recently elected vice-president of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents of New York. Mr. Pohlmann has been a member of the association's executive committee for the past year.

Hotel Saskatchewan, Regina, distinguished itself recently by staging a Chinese Mandarin dinner dance, said to be the first of its kind on this continent. As stage decoration there was used a hundred-foot runner and side drapes, hand-made by Chinese many decades ago, and insured while in use at a valuation of $5,000. The orchestra was in Chinese dress and provided music with a decidedly Eastern background.

T. J. Jackson, who has just been appointed first assistant manager of the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, in succession to Cyril Chapman, promoted to the post of manager of the Seignior Club of Quebec, started as cashier at the Chateau Frontenac in 1924, and has had rapid advancement to his present high position.

To Charles Montgomery, one-time switch-tender and at present elevator operator at the Canadian Pacific uptown office building in Winnipeg, go all honors for having constructed what is probably the most perfectly finished model of a locomotive on the continent. It is a five-foot replica of a Canadian Pacific class "2600", finished in brass, and copper, and took five years to construct.

Out of active service for some years past, Canadian Pacific liner Melita has been sold to Italian shipbreakers. She was built in Glasgow in 1918.

"Never betray a trust; be honest; do what other men can do; and work your eight hours a day," is the recipe for success enunciated by Caleb B. Smith, international chairman of the Million-Dollar Round Table, speaking to the Life Underwriters' convention at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, recently.

James G. Millar, Medicine Hat, veteran Canadian Pacific engineer, recently celebrated his 82nd birthday, when railway acquaintances and relatives gathered to congratulate him. He was born in Drummondville, Que., and has been drawing a railroad cheque for more than 64 years.

A couple of scores of fine old railroaders who five decades ago helped push the steel around the north shore of Lake Superior for the Canadian Pacific Railway, gathered near Jackfish, Ont., recently, to re-enact the driving of the last spike at Nipigon on May 26, 1885. Alex. Anderson, Port Arthur, who he is the spike when it was driven fifty years ago, drove home a new spiked spike with a vigor that belied his 81 years.

A return of the good old game, "Off again, on again, Flanagan," was much enjoyed in Blairmore during the past two weeks, when the hiring and firing party again came into action, repeating exactly what happened years ago, when H. E. Lyon was mayor. The town police was fired several times by the town council and hired just as many times by the mayor.

BETTER'N A JOB

A negro met an acquaintance of his, also colored, on the street one day, and was surprised to see that his friend had on a new suit, new hat, new shoes and other evidences of prosperity.

"Hey, boy," said he, "how come you dressed up dis way? Is you got a job?"

"I've got somethin' better'n a job," replied the other, "I've got a profession—I'm an orator."

"What's a orator?"

"Don't you know?" replied the respondent one in surprise. "Well, I'll tell you what a orator is. If you walk up to a ordinary nigger and ask him how much was two and two he'd say 'four'—but, if you was to ask one of us orators how much was two and two, we'd say, 'When in de course of human events it becomes necessary to take de numeral of the second denomination and add it to de figger two, I say unto you and I says it without fear of successful contradiction, dat de result will invariably be four.' Dat's a orator."

Reminds one of some of the famous soap-box orators in the Crows' Nest Pass.

CALGARY EXHIBITION AND STAMPEDE

The 1935 Calgary Exhibition and Stampede will celebrate two memorable events, the 50th anniversary of the Stampede and the Diamond Jubilee of the arrival at Calgary of the North West Mounted Police, and the President, directors and management have planned to make the show the most outstanding one of its history.

On Monday, July 8th, Major Gen. Sir James H. MacBrien, K.C.B., C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, will officially open the Stampede, and the Mounted Police contribution to the show will be the famous Mounted Police Musical Ride from Regina, which will be given at each day's program.

In addition to planning a spectacular show, the Exhibition and Stampede Board have appropriated $12,000.00 to provide an increase of $4,000.00 in exhibition prizes, additional pavement and improved grandstand entrance, and racing paddock facilities. The grandstand at the Calgary exhibition grounds is the second largest in Canada, seating 9,000 people with additional bleacher accommodation for 4,000.

The opening item of a thrilling week's entertainment will be the famous stampede parade with its miles of Indians, Old Timers, Cowboys (riding and driving over 1,200 horses) twenty bands, and this year's attractions, a detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and the 91st Highlanders' Band from Hamilton, Ontario, one of Canada's foremost musical organizations.

"Fascinations of 1935" the gorgeous stage production will delight grandstand audiences each evening. The program will include a colorful revue, a number of the most outstanding vaudeville acts, and Billy Lorette, the favorite clown, whose antics provide mirth and merriment.

The Calgary stampede will be bigger and better than ever with an added chuck wagon race on Saturday night. A number of valuable special prizes have again been included in the $10,000 stampede prize list, which includes a donation of $400.00 in cash, making the first money in the North American bucking contest $1,000. Last year's entries were the most numerous in the history of the stampede, the number being over 600, which it is believed is the largest entry at any stampede ever held anywhere.

There will be seven days' running horse races starting the Saturday prior to Exhibition dates.

An uptown morning street display will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings. This will be a most colorful event, with the Indians, Mounted Police and 91st Highlanders' Band.

The Friday morning live stock review will undoubtedly draw the largest crowd in the history of this exclusive Calgary feature.

Friday of Exhibition week will be stampede shopping day.

The Royal American Shows, so popular last year, will again provide fun on the Midway.

Special reduced railway and bus passenger fares will be in force from Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia mainland points. Special tourist rates may be obtained from Banff and Lake Louise with a stop-over at Calgary.

The week's celebrations will close with a marvellous program Saturday night, including an extra chuck wagon race, the "Fascinations of 1935," presentation of prizes to stampede champions, colorful parade of gorgeously dressed Indians, and last, but not least, Canada's largest one-night display of fireworks. At the close of the fireworks program, there will be a march-past of the Mounted Police Veterans and Royal Canadian Mounted Police, headed by a band of over one hundred instruments.

A free accommodation booth and the ticket office will be located at the C.P.R. station. Advance reservations for rooms and reserved seats may be made and prize lists for the different departments and illustrated folder may be obtained by writing E. L. Richardson, General Manager, Calgary Exhibition and Stampede, Calgary, Alberta.

A local party has figured that since the town of Blairmore became incorporated, losses paid by the ratepayers for money stolen, court and investigation costs, special audits, etc., in that time, around twenty years, would run into figures over the ten thousand mark. During that same period Coleman has had no trouble—and that's a tribute.

The depressed price of farm products is a problem with which everyone is familiar, but on the 1913 basis farm product prices have never been as low as gasoline. Between 1913 and 1920 gasoline did not rise in price to nearly the same extent as farm products, yet since 1920 its price has almost continuously declined. The data for the above graph are based on figures published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

A DYING WAGE

WHEN we started business in 1880 our first rule was to pay a fair living wage.

In 1919 we decided a living wage was not enough. We should pay a dying wage, too. We knew how hard it is for the worker to make provision for his old age and for his dependents in the event of his death.

So we introduced benefits and pensions plans. Sickness benefits—the incapacitated employee to continue drawing pay according to his term of service; pensions—a fair living allowance for the worker who reaches old age; death benefits—a cheque immediately for the deceased worker's family. These things lifted a burden of care from our employees' shoulders—made them happier, more enterprising and more efficient. They lifted a burden from the shoulders of the Canadian taxpayer, too.

We are proud of these plans which have helped so much to build up a loyal organization of thousands of Canadian workers. Their devotion to their work has made it possible for us to serve Canada with quality products at lower and lower prices.

SAVE

WE'VE heard a lot of that word "save" in the past few years. For some time now the question of saving our pennies and dimes has not only been important—but imperative.

Also, it may be noted that everyone who is in the business of selling merchandise to the public has devoted his attention to pointing out how much you, the customer, can SAVE by dealing with him, to the exclusion of others. Which is perfectly all right, too, in its way, except that it is advisable for a customer in his own interests to be sure that the savings that he is getting are real and not simply over enthusiasm on the advertiser's part. In other words to save where it's SAFE to save—to save, for instance, at EATON'S, where value means not simply cheapness—but quality at a price—and where every claim regarding merchandise is backed by an iron-clad guarantee of satisfaction that makes every purchase doubly safe. It's natural to want to save—but it's wise to remember that "IT'S SAFE to save at EATON'S."

Vacation Days

That happy period in childhood, the mid-summer school holidays, is near at hand. With shouts of joy, laughter, and on running feet the boys and girls of Canada will announce to all the world "School's out," and they will toss their books aside to be forgotten for a couple of months.

In these latter days much is heard of shorter working hours, more leisure for the workers of the world, and all kinds of proposals are advanced as to how those leisure hours may be spent in order that they may be a blessing rather than a drawback in the development of a better type of citizen, in order that they may add to the pleasure and true enjoyment of life rather than tend towards pure idleness and even shiftlessness.

Now, with two months of absence from school for their children, what are Canadian parents planning for these energetic boys and girls, to keep them out of mischief and to make this vacation time freed from study wholly beneficial and an asset which will prove of value in better health, clearer minds, and a more thoughtful and more intelligent type of citizen, in order that they may add to the pleasure and true enjoyment of life rather than tend towards pure idleness and even shiftlessness.

Older boys and girls are already home from college, annual conferences and assemblies have been held, nurses' graduation from hospitals are completed, examinations of all kinds are nearing an end, teachers, too, will be free of their duties, spring work on the farm is past, and in town and city the quiet time in business is at hand. Thus the older generation is able to devote more time and more thought to making these happy days of childhood a real joy and blessing not only to the children but to themselves.

And so the question arises, and ought to be faced, what can we do individually and collectively to make the summer vacation of 1935 a never-to-be-forgotten period in the lives and memories of Canada's boys and girls, —your own boys and girls? It is a responsibility to be discharged, just as it is a pleasure to be derived by those who discharge the responsibility. And this combined responsibility and pleasure for parents, and unalloyed pleasure for children, should not be neglected this year especially, following, as it does, so many years of economic depression and, for many in this western country, disastrous crop failures and business reverses.

Fortunately, it does not cost much in money to give children a good time, a happy holiday. Fortunately, again, Canada is blessed by Nature with almost innumerable beauty spots for holiday purposes. There is not a province in Canada which does not abound in lakes, large and small, summer resorts and camping grounds are numerous, places to camp and picnic are to be found in easily accessible places. Full advantage should be taken of these to provide outings for the boys and girls, even though individual circumstances may make such outings of brief duration.

In summer time especially Canada is a land for out-of-doors. Get the boys and girls out into the open, and keep them there, as far as possible. They are in school rooms and shut up in houses in the winter time for long months of the year; they need the health-giving properties of the sun throughout the summer holiday season, the clean, invigorating fresh air, the delights of forest and lake. Get them as close as possible to Nature in her happiest moods and most beautiful dress.

And make these vacation days of lasting benefit in other ways. See that the boys and girls are taught to swim. It is little less than a crime that so many Canadian boys and girls never learn to swim, and so many tragedies result which are so easily preventable. The art of swimming should be a part of every child's education. It is not only one of the best forms of exercise, making for the development of muscle; it is not only a source of great pleasure; but it is a preparation for emergencies that may arise in their own lives or in the lives of others.

Unconsciously, too, the work of the school room can be carried forward. Powers of observation can be developed and strengthened during vacation days spent in the open; habits of cleanliness, neatness, orderliness, can be made a part of camp and holiday life, and accepted as part of the fun, which will stand children in good stead in future years; initiative, ideas in handicrafts, resort to simple invention to meet the lack of usual equipment at home—all these things mean a greater all-round development of character.

An elaborately organized holiday is not necessary, neither should much expense be entailed. Get out with the children and rough it for a while. They will enjoy it just as much, perhaps more, than an expensive trip or outing where everything is planned and arranged for them. To a large extent, the boys and girls should do a full share of the camp or holiday work. Properly organized and time systematically divided between these duties and the hours of play, boys and girls will enjoy and benefit from doing the camp chores.

Forget the motor car occasionally, and spend a day on a hike. Older lands know the delights and benefits of a walking tour, or a day's hike, which Canadians have not learned to appreciate. Try one this year with your older boys and girls.

Think up other things and ways in which this holiday season can be made happy, healthful and useful. Vacation days present an opportunity to get closer to your children than is possible in the busier days of the year. It is an opportunity for you to study them; ascertain their weaknesses, or strength; gain their confidence in larger measure; learn of their ambitions, and as a result be in a better position to mold their characters along right lines, and check tendencies and habits, hitherto un-noted by you, which would prove a handicap to them, and a possible source of future worry and sorrow to yourself as well as to them.

Lloyd's Insure Vimy Pilgrimage

Stress Necessity Of Making Early Bookings

The Canadian Legion announced to-day that Lloyd's of London, England, have insured the Vimy Pilgrimage, to be held in July of next year, against "abandonment in the event of war, financial panic or other untoward events."

Bookings are pouring into the steamship companies. Hope is expressed by Legion officials that service men realize the necessity of registering early in order to be certain of accommodation.

"It is difficult to impress a veteran with the idea of making a ten dollar deposit now when he knows he can pay the full hundred and sixty dollars when the time comes," said Captain Ben Allen, Legion organizer, to the press to-day. "Early bookings are necessary, however, so that we can get enough ships to take care of the thousands who intend going."

"And Pilgrims only are going to be allowed to sail in this Peace Pilgrimage. Also we must arrange for a motor for piloting accommodation and rail and motor transportation in France. Butterfly Hunter

Man To Travel 4,000 Miles To Pursue Life-Long Hobby

At the age of 73 Walter Dannatt, a retired business man of London, will leave shortly to travel a thousand miles up the Amazon in pursuit of his lifelong hobby of butterfly collecting.

Mr. Dannatt has a remarkable collection of butterflies and moths, numbering more than 18,000, and he hopes to add to it considerably as the result of his new venture.

"I keep fit by cycling," Mr. Dannatt added. "I have had the same machine for 30 years, and have traveled more than 150,000 miles on it. One week-end I covered more than a hundred miles."

"Before I bought my present machine I had the first safety bicycle in the country."

On the subject of his hobby, Mr. Dannatt said: "Some of the best specimens come from as far as the Solomon Islands. The collector who secured them was repeatedly driven off by cannibals in attempting to land. He at last succeeded by brandishing a revolver."

Boasting Bay Route

First Vessel To Be Chartered For 1935 Season Is The Ashworth Of The Dalgleish Line

Announcing the Ashworth of the Dalgleish line is the first vessel to be chartered for the 1935 season. Brigadier-General Dalgleish, president of the On-to-the-Bay Association, at Winnipeg, forecast a record year for grain exports over the Hudson Bay route.

More ships would visit Churchill, Manitoba's northern seaport, this season than any season previously, General Patterson said. Judging from the numerous inquiries received from persons in different countries, General Patterson said many tourists would visit the port this year.

The Ashworth will leave England in time for the official opening of the Hudson straits and is expected to dock at Churchill shortly after the opening date, August 10. The Ashworth will bring cargo to Churchill from Newcastle, Antwerp and Liverpool.

Upwards of 8,000 former residents of the British Empire, enough to make a small city, picked at Los Angeles, California, in observance of the silver jubilee of King George.

The outdoor luncheon grounds of Lincoln park saw a gathering of people from all parts of the empire.

Francis E. Evans, British consul and guest of honor, pleaded for Anglo-American amity and declared that at such a season of English rejoicing international ties should be even closer between former British subjects here and abroad. John Tappan, vice-president of the Sons of St. George, was another guest of honor.

Girl's Rose Fools Thief

Recovers Jewel From Robber By Clever Trick

A young woman in Shanghai, China, who refused to be alarmed when a thief snatched a pearl earring valued at $1,000 from her ear recovered the jewel by a ruse as clever as it was daring.

As he started to run away, the woman reached for the other earring and called to him: "Here," she cried, "you might just as well take the other one. I only paid $250 for them." The robber, hurrying a stream of inoperative at her and all other women who wore imitation jewelry, tossed the earring he had snatched into the street and left.

Little Journeys In Science

BROMINE

(By Gordon H.quest, M.A.)

Bromine was discovered about a century ago by the French scientist Ballard. The element occurs in nature as bromides, chiefly as magnesium bromide and sodium bromide, which are found in many springs and salt deposits. The Stassfurt deposits in Germany and the salt waters of Michigan and Ohio are richest in bromides. Sea water also contains small amounts of bromides.

Bromine is prepared commercially by the electrolysis of a solution of a bromide or by treating solutions of bromides with the more active element chlorine.

In recent years the demand for bromine has greatly increased, due to its use in the preparation of a compound called ethylene bromide. This compound is a constituent of ethyl gasoline. An effort is being made at the present time by scientists to obtain additional supplies of bromine from the bromides in sea water. Sea water contains about seventy parts of bromine in a million of water, which means that about 2,000 gallons of the water must be treated to secure a pound of bromine. To recover bromine from sea-water, a ship was equipped capable of recovering 100,000 pounds of the element per month. It has been reported that the trial trip of this vessel was quite successful, and as a result of this large sea experiment a plant has been built on the Atlantic coast for the extraction of bromine from the ocean.

The success of this venture has suggested the possibility of extracting gold from sea water in a similar way.

Bromine is a dark-red fuming liquid with a very disagreeable odor. Bromine vapor attacks the eyes very painfully and produces great irritation when inhaled. It is about three times as heavy as water and is moderately soluble in water.

Bromine is a compound produced when bromine combines with other elements. Those of potassium and sodium are used as medicines, as sedatives and in the preparation of silver bromide, which is used extensively in photography as the sensitive material on the plate. Bromine is also used in the preparation of important dyes. Considerable quantities of bromine are used in the manufacture of tear-gases, or lacrimators.

WHEAT GREATEST PROBLEM THAT FACES CANADA

Ottawa.—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett called the wheat situation Canada's greatest problem when, in the House, he moved second reading of his Grain Bill.

Although not the world's largest producers, Canada is the largest exporter and the size and quality of the crop has a great effect on Canada's crop, Mr. Bennett explained.

There was no section of the country not affected by wheat prices, drought, windstorms and fair weather on the prairies. Because of that, Canada was more interested than any other in a moderate price for wheat, he added.

In the last crop year, of every 100 bushels of wheat that went on the world market, Canada shipped 35; Australia 20; Argentina 20; United States 10; Russia eight and the Balkan countries seven. Because of that Canada owed a duty not only to its own farmers but to all countries that a fair price was reached.

The prime minister defied Liberal members to oppose the government wheat operations. He suggested that "sneering observations be directed to the people of the west" who realized they were saved from bankruptcy. Once again he defied Liberal members to oppose the wheat operations, taunting them to "speak up like men."

"When I listen to the sneers of the honorable gentlemen opposite I invite them to rise and say they oppose this bill," said Mr. Bennett. "Let them rise and speak like men not sit in their seats and sneer and whisper to one another."

The Dominion bureau of statistics issued a report showing a drop of more than 5,000,000 bushels in exports of Canadian wheat in May to the United Kingdom compared with those of May, 1934, which officials said was due largely to lower import demand by continental European countries.

Last May Canadian exports of wheat to the United Kingdom totalled 9,272,511 bushels valued at $7,804,522 compared with 14,568,391 bushels worth $19,894,585. Officials explained great quantities of Canadian wheat consigned originally to the United Kingdom do not reach that destination but are diverted en route to other countries.

They said they thought there was little actual difference in British imports of Canadian wheat last May and May, 1934, although those figures will not be available for several days.

To Protect Canadian Money

Fund To Be Provided To Check Fluctuations

Ottawa.—Creation of a fund to be used if necessary by the minister of finance for the purpose of protecting the external value of the Canadian monetary unit would be provided in a measure introduced in the House of Commons by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett on behalf of Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes. The bill was given first reading and was not discussed.

Approximately $60,000,000 will be the nucleus of the fund according to the provisions of the bill which appropriates the difference between the statutory value of the gold taken over by the Bank of Canada from the federal treasury and the current market price of the metal.

Under the direction of the minister of finance the fund and its increment will be kept in a special account and used when necessary to protect Canadian money abroad or check fluctuations by the purchase of gold, foreign exchange, or balances in New York or London banks.

To Unite Family

Dr. Dafeo Predicts Quintuplets Will Be Returned Home Within Few Years

Atlantic City, N.J.—To several hundred wives of Canadian and American Medical Association physicians who expressed particular interest in the mother of the Dionne quintuplets, Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo predicted early reunion with their mother, and union of the entire family "by three or four years."

To newspapermen who questioned him afterward Dr. Dafeo said: "There is no definite plan, but this is the hope."

Dr. Dafeo spoke at a women's luncheon and offered to answer questions. "How will the influence of the mother be supplied in raising the quintuplets," one of the women asked.

"Mrs. Dionne," Dr. Dafeo replied, "is permitted to see the quintuplets whenever she wishes. She may wash them and do other things."

"It is our hope as soon as possible to have their mother care for them, and in three or four years to have all 10 children together and the family under one roof."

Dr. Dafeo's plan was to recite the daily routine of the quintuplets.

Must Take Rest

The King's Physicians Order His Majesty To Rest For At Least Two Weeks

Sandringham.—The King's physicians have ordered him to rest at least two weeks to recover from an attack of bronchial catarrh and fatigue resulting from six weeks of strenuous activities since the start of the silver jubilee season.

Court circles, little surprised the physicians halted the heavy program the 70-year-old monarch had been following, emphasized rest to relieve his fatigue was more important than treatment of the catarrhal ailment.

Evidence of the king's illness was not regarded as serious was offered by Queen Mary, who left for London by train to keep engagements there, and by the king himself, who went automobile riding over the estate during the afternoon.

Should Use Franchise

Agnes MacPhail Urges Women To Enter Politics

Toronto.—Miss Agnes MacPhail challenged the National Council of Women, addressing the council's annual meeting here, to use their franchise and what privileges they possessed.

"How long am I to be the only woman member of the House of Commons?" she asked. "It is time if the women really care about the franchise, that they get into the work. You can get into the House of Commons when you're a friend of the people of any constituency if you want to."

"It is time the women took their courage in their hands and did the job and cared nothing about what anyone thinks," Miss MacPhail said she had been the only woman member of the commons for 13 years.

European News

Cables Now Carry An Increasingly Heavy Load

Winnipeg.—Trans-Atlantic cables carry an increasingly heavy load of European crisis news, members of the Canadian Press were told by their president, Henri Gagnon of Quebec. To the annual meeting of the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association, W. J. J. Butler of Toronto reported as chairman of the board of directors, "Perhaps not in many decades has the news that has come over our various wire services been so difficult of interpretation."

New Minister Arrives

New York.—Satomotoki Kato, newly appointed Japanese minister to Canada, and his wife, arrived in New York aboard the liner Majestic. Mr. and Mrs. Kato proceeded to Ottawa by train. The new envoy from Japan for a number of years has been in his country's consular service at London and previous to that at Washington.

Rural Mail Contracts

Ottawa.—A bill to amend the Post Office Act will be introduced in the House of Commons by Minister of Justice Hugh Guthrie, it was disclosed. It will give the postmaster-general authority to renew contracts for rural mail delivery without calling for tenders.

Blind May Receive Pension

Legislation Has Been Recommended For People Over Forty

Ottawa.—Dominion legislation to give blind persons pensions when they reach the age of 40, on the same terms that all needy persons receive the pension when over 70 under the Old Age Pensions Act, was recommended in a report tabled in the House of Commons. The report was made by the house committee on industrial and international relations.

Since the Old Age Pension Act applies in only seven of the nine provinces, Quebec and New Brunswick never having adopted it, the report recommends the provinces be enabled to participate in blind pensions without end of the present provisions of the act in regard to all needy persons.

The report said a check between statistics compiled by organizations interested in the blind and census returns placed the total number of blind in the nine provinces at 3,018 of whom approximately 2,600 would be eligible for pensions.

The estimated expenditure by the government on the basis of present contributions was placed at less than $500,000 annually, with $125,000 required to the end of the present fiscal year. This was apart from administrative expenses. The maximum pension is $20 a month.

A NEW BRITISH MOVEMENT FOR CAUSE OF PEACE

London.—A non-partisan movement designed to secure adherence of candidates of all political parties at the forthcoming general elections to the cause of peace and reconstruction was launched here.

A council of action, formed from the ranks of religious, social and political organizations, and supported by noted figures including David Lloyd George, Viscount Snowden and Sir Basil Blackett, a director of the Bank of England, made its plans known in a manifesto. Signed by 33 prominent men and women who form the provisional committee, the manifesto invited all organizations sympathetic to the new movement to send delegates to a two-day convention to be held in London in July, at which a nation-wide campaign will be launched.

The manifesto stressed the objective of the council of action was not a negative one of opposition to the government, nor was it intended to support either of the opposition parties. Its aim would be to secure the support of candidates in all parties so that in the next House of Commons a considerable section would favor "bold reconstructions both in the foreign and domestic fields."

No Bids For Bonds

Ontario Government Bond Issue Had No Bidders

Toronto.—The Hepburn government in Ontario met the failure of the financial interests of the country to bid on Ontario's $15,000,000 bond issue with the declaration "There will be no surrender."

For several hours after the noon-hour closing time for the receipt of tenders when it was discovered none had been submitted, the Ontario cabinet was in session. Late in the day Premier Hepburn emerged with a prepared statement in which he charged "the financial interests have consolidated and have undertaken to force the government to surrender," and in which he declared "the plain issue is whether the country is to be governed by elected representatives or by the dictators in control of the machinery of money."

The premier offered no details of how the government, having failed to secure an offer for its first major bond issue, would secure necessary money, but he intimated if necessary the facilities of the Ontario government savings offices would be created and bonds would be sold over the counter to the public.

Prepare For Inflation

Roger Babson Says United States Should Expect It To Come

Boston.—Roger W. Babson, widely-known statesman, warned United States business men to prepare for inflation.

"Quit worrying, forget Washington. Prepare for inflation," he said in a speech prepared for delivery at a Boston chamber of commerce luncheon.

"Inflation of some kind surely is coming," he said.

Chaco War Ended

Peace Protocol Between Two Nations Is Signed

Buenos Aires.—War between Bolivia and Paraguay in the Gran Chaco jungle district was ended, with the signing of the peace protocol between the two nations.

The protocol was formally signed by the two countries' foreign ministers in the presence of delegates from Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Peru, Uruguay, and the United States to the conference here for mediation.

A neutral military commission will go at once to the front and interview the commanders on both sides, establishing the exact positions occupied by their respective forces at the signing of the armistice. Though the protocol provided firing must end within 48 hours, it was reported both countries' capitals already had sent "cease-firing" orders to their troops.

To arrive as soon as possible in the jungles and between the Ite Mayo and Paraguay rivers, where 100,000 Paraguayan and Bolivian soldiers have died in the three-years' warfare, the commission will travel by plane.

Show Big Decrease

Bureau Of Statistics Issues Figures On Wheat Storage

Ottawa.—Canadian wheat in store for the week ended June 7 amounted to 209,353,759 bushels, a decrease of 1,189,638 bushels compared with the preceding week, and a decrease of 10,265 bushels against the same week last year, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported.

Canadian wheat in the United States amounted to 9,603,316 bushels, an increase of 232,613 bushels over the previous week, and an increase of 2,989,339 bushels against the corresponding week last year.

United States wheat in Canada was shown as 209,294 bushels for the week ended June 7, compared with two bushels on the same date last year.

Wheat in transit on the lakes was reported as 3,100,258 bushels, compared with 1,483,997 bushels for the preceding week.

Gets Curtain Call

Grace Moore Scores A Sensation In London

London.—Grace Moore scored a sensation as Mimi in La Boheme before Queen Mary and a glittering audience of London's society.

She took 15 curtain calls after the final act, which was believed a modern record for historic Covent Garden hall.

The queen started to leave after the second curtain call but came back and applauded the United States singer for the third time. As Miss Moore curtained low, the queen bowed and smiled at her.

SAY AERIAL BASES DOMESTIC POLICY FOR THE U. S.

Ottawa.—Canada had no information the United States government actually contemplated establishment of an air base in Lake Champlain, near the Quebec boundary, but any such step would be regarded as a matter of domestic policy on the part of the United States, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, senate leader, told the upper house.

He believed the newspaper report, Senator Meighen replied to Senator Rodolphe Lemieux (Lib., Montreal), had been founded entirely on a statement by a member of a committee of the United States congress which was dealing with the subject. A bill was passed by congress and became effective last June 5 authorizing construction of airports and defence areas within which major construction might take place. One of these areas, he continued, was the northwest area and a proposal to construct there was indicated. Beyond that nothing was done.

Senator Raoul Dandurand, Liberal leader, said when behind closed doors an expert of the United States navy department had recommended to congress an airport be built near the Canadian border, and the recommendation had been published, President Franklin Roosevelt had made a statement. The United States president had declared it was beyond conception that his government considered such a safeguard was necessary in view of relations between Canada and the United States. The declaration had been welcomed.

REJECT CHANGE IN INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES ACT

Ottawa.—The senate banking and commerce committee rejected the bill to amend the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act arising out of the report of the price spreads commission.

Motion for rejection of the measure was carried without division. It set out that "the committee report the bill to the senate with a recommendation that it be not further proceeded with for the reason that in the opinion of the committee its passage would not be in the public interest and would interfere with the spirit and purpose of the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act which is to prevent by conciliatory methods industrial disputes or breach of the peace."

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, senate leader, said he agreed with President Tom Moore, of the Trades and Labor Congress, that "there is nothing in the bill worth saving."

The measure, Mr. Meighen said, attempted to provide even where there was no cause to fear a strike or lockout that the minister of labor might appoint a board of conciliation on complaint of an individual employer or worker of intimidation or discrimination.

The proposal was to try to effect a settlement of a dispute of that character "out of the dispute of laboring a strike or lockout but more probably a difficulty between one section of labor and another or between one employee and another." In effect, the amendment proposed boards might be set up to deal with disputes more or less of a local or domestic character, within the realm of provincial jurisdiction over civil rights.

"The committee felt," he continued, "that to invite a reference of disputes of that kind to a minister and thus to impose on him almost a direction to appoint a board, unless he give adequate reasons to the contrary, not only would throw upon him an unnecessary burden, but would place a weapon in the hands of an employer desirous of preventing what he regarded as discrimination against a worker who thought he had been discriminated against by a labor organization." Aside from the constitutional feature, it was felt unnecessary for parliament to invade such a field.

Establishment of boards in these instances would be entirely foreign to dominion jurisdiction under the British North America Act, the committee considered. The power of such boards to secure witnesses, or resist interference or deal with parties who refused to testify was doubtful.

Committee members had not taken the view the constitutional danger alone was sufficient to warrant proceeding no further with the bill. "We consider on its merits it was an unwise and unnecessary measure." The present act gave ample provisions where there was reason for the labor minister exerting his efforts towards conciliation.

Divorce Applications

Would Have Committee Of Both Houses To Hear Cases

Ottawa.—Suggestion for establishment of a joint committee of both houses of parliament to hear divorce applications found favor from both sides of the senate chamber. A divorce committee functions for the upper house under Senator Lendrum McMeans (Cons., Winnipeg), hears witnesses and reports on its findings. The commons is without a divorce committee, but sends the bills to its private bills committee after they are passed by the senate.

Quebec Lumber

Montreal.—The Quebec forest commission is determined to increase export of province of Quebec lumber, L. A. Daigle, chairman of the commission, said here. Mr. Daigle said the commission is handicapped by "certain influences which militate against a more general use of Quebec timber."

Winnipeg.—A memorial to the late Harry Sifton, of Toronto—a sun dial—presented by E. H. Macklin, former president of the Winnipeg Free Press, was unveiled in Assiniboia park here. B. C. Nicholas, of the Victoria Times, a close friend of Mr. Sifton, participated in the ceremony.
